

Sinclair Broadcasting is misusing the trust the people of this country and the FCC have given them when they require their stations to play a controversial and "non-news" documentary that is clearly partisan -- particularly just before the general election.

These kinds of decisions make a serious impact on our democratic process. This is an example of the grave consequences of allowing consolidation in the media. Please give this your utmost thoughtful consideration.